

LATEST NEWS

BOATS POWER REVIEWS

PARDO GT75 – ENJOY PRIVILEGED CONTACT WITH THE SEA

Available from eyachts

Pardo Yachts have unveiled their latest project: the Pardo GT75, set to accompany her younger sister Pardo GT52 in the range. With her nearly 23 meters in length The GT75 is going to enhance the winning features that have already made the GT range unmistakable.

The new flagship of the Pardo Yachts fleet is positioned between the Walkaround and Endurance ranges, where the focus on extremely comfortable interior volumes goes hand-in-hand with the hull lines typical of a high-performance 75-footer. The luxurious and elegant character of the interior will be the perfect setting for the owner who wants to experience the boat as a villa on the sea: spaces and volumes perfectly designed to optimize each corner of the boat, from the living area to the accommodation spaces.

The design of the interior, as well as the exterior, has once again been entrusted to Nauta Design, masters in knowing how to intertwine the refinement of furnishings with the efficiency of space distribution. Also for GT75, the elegant interior layout is available in a galley-up or galley-down version, allowing the owner to experience the boat in a more convivial or more private way.

The master cabin has an en suite head with fine finishes, confirming Cantieri del Pardo's attention to interior design. The accommodation space varies according to the owner's needs: the layout of the lower deck is in fact designed to accommodate two, three or four cabins, for a total of 10 berths.

For the exteriors, large sundecks and lounge areas on the aft and foredeck will be the perfect terraces to enjoy privileged contact with the sea. Enjoy two options; Tender Garage or Beach.

In the Pardo GT75 Tender Garage, the cockpit layout is designed to accommodate a very large sundeck, aft of the C-shaped seating area: this section lifts electrically when needed, revealing a dedicated garage for the tender. This solution fully reflects the typical approach of the superyacht world, where housing the tender on board is a must-have feature.

In the Beach version of Pardo GT75, the entire aft section can be transformed into an extended terrace overlooking the sea. This is enabled by hydraulically controlled side wings to shape the entire area according to owner's wishes. From this exterior open space is possible to directly access the master stateroom thanks to electric sliding glass windows. This is a suite dedicated to the owner, furnished and designed with extreme attention to detail, with privileged views towards priceless panoramas and breathtaking awakenings.

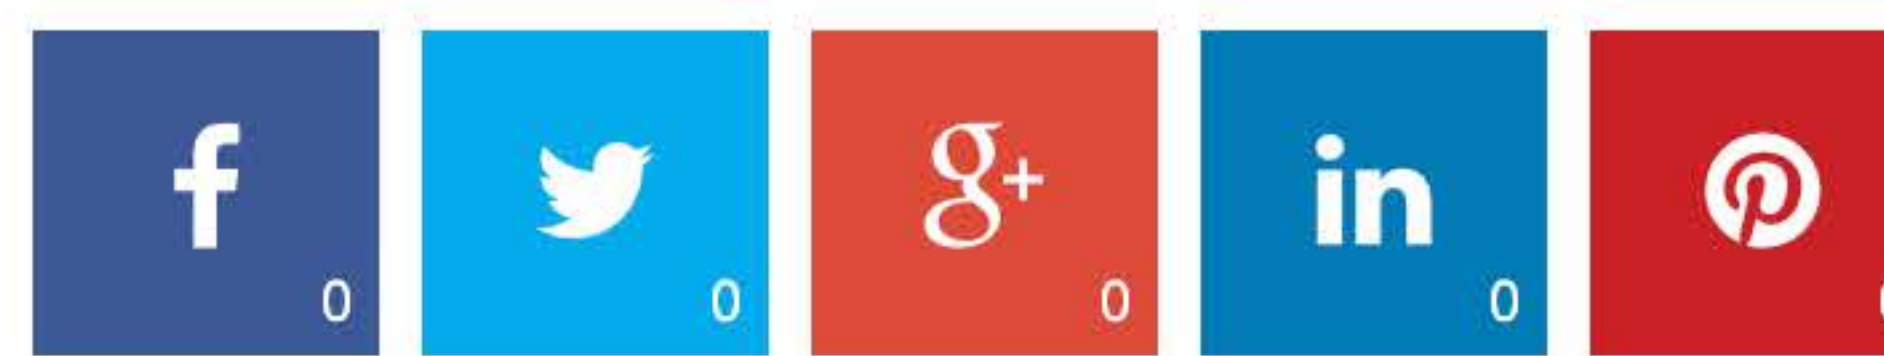

Overall length: 23 m. Maximum beam: 6 m. Fuel tanks: 4200 L. Fresh water tank: 1200 L. Standard Engines: 3 x D13 IPS 900. Optional Engines: 3 x D13 IPS1050 /1200 /1350.

For more information, visit Pardo Yachts at www.eyachts.com.au

Published in print January-March 2023

SHARE THIS ARTICLE DO THE SHARING THINGY

RELATED REVIEWS ARTICLES

SIMILAR POSTS FROM REVIEWS CATEGORY

iAQUA SEADART – ADVENTURE AWAITS

SIMRAD® MARINE ELECTRONICS – PREPARING FOR NIGHT PASSAGES

Axopar 37X Sun Top: Awakening of the Adventure Boat

